What the Free Traders Propose

The New York Herald is noted for the practicability of its general views and its freedom from the trammels of party Here are some of its observations on the recent free trade festival at New York

Free trade, the grand ultimatum of the League, means the abolition of all duties upon foreign goods, which carries with it the abolition of all custom houses and the substitution of a direct tax upon the people to make up the deficiencies of revenue thus resulting to the national treasury Now, considering that we have a national debt of some $2 500 000,000 to look after the interest of this debt together with the regular government expenses, will require four years to come a pretty heavy taxation to say nothing of the payment of the principal of the debt General Grant is paying off the principal at the rate of a hundred millions a year but this may be very properly cut down in a reduction of the taxes, internal and external to the extent of fifty millions a year Still to meet current expenses and the debt some three hundred millions must be raised for the Treasury At present the sum of one hundred and eighty millions in round numbers is raised from the taxes on foreign imports and one hundred and seventy millions from our internal or direct taxes

In order to have free trade therefore while meeting the interest on the debt and fifty millions of the principal, instead of reducing our direct taxes we must have them increased to the extent of one hundred and thirty millions a year which will simply be robbing Peter to pay Paul The only short cut to free trade in fact is the short cut of repudiation but as this settlement of the national debt was not suggested at this free trade dinner, and as it is not hinted at by the League, we shall have plenty of time—say twenty five or thirty years—for this free trade discussion and for the abolition of all our custom houses The best that we can do meantime is to lighten as far as possible looking to the gradual redemption or funding of the national debt the burden upon the masses of the people which they now have to bear in our external and internal or indirect and direct taxes Down to the late war all our national revenues, except a few millions from the public lands were raised from the customs or indirect taxes and partly because as an invisible system of taxation it was considered the best It has grown now to a system of protection of home manufactures, which in many things invites assault and yet we cannot have free trade short of the redemption or the funding or repudiation of the national debt

Military Turkey

The Fremdenblatt of Vienna give an account from a military source of the present condition of the Turkish Army which has a special interest now that a conflict between Russia and Turkey is threatening It says that those who have watched for the last few years the development of the organization of the Turkish army and seen its various corps in action and [illegible] have come to the conclusion that it has become equal to any troops that Russia could bring against it Even in 1853 and 1854 the Russians were unable to gain any decisive victory over the Turks and since then the military administration of the Porte has fully taken advantage of every modern improvement All the field batteries have rifled guns and the principal fortresses and harbors are armed with heavy breech loading cannon The whole of the infantry, cavalry and scientific corps are provided with Sniders, and the artillery with five-barreled revolvers The reserve (redif) and militia have as yet only had Minie rifles but they will also be armed with Sniders shortly Another important element of the new system the education of officers, has been thoroughly attended to and the military academies now furnish yearly about 120 officers, who are employed partly on the staff partly in the various corps of the army The old plan of employing foreigners as officers which did not work well has now been abandoned and their places are occupied by natives who by a thorough course of study, both at home and abroad, have made themselves masters of the latest improvements in the art of war The relations between officers and men are still on a sort of patriarchal footing, which however is rather an advantage when combined with the excellent discipline which is now preserved in all the branches of the army The non-commissioned officers too, have great influence and authority and considerable privileges have lately been granted in order to induce them to remain in the service The clothing in the army is very comfortable and practical and the knapsacks are reduced to the lowest possible weight the cavalry is admirably mounted and the artillery wagons are everything that the most exacting soldier can desire As for the men they form almost as good material for an army as any that can be found in Europe Patient obedient and intelligent, they endure hardships of every kind without a murmur, and are exceedingly skilful and quick in all military manœuvers The only point in which they may prove inferior to European troops, is that they are unaccustomed to sharp-shooting and prefer fighting hand to hand Taking them altogether the writer holds that the Turkish troops may, as far as quality is concerned await with calmness a Russian attack Nor could Russia bring into the field a much stronger force than Turkey as regards numbers for her huge territory and domestic requirements compel her to keep a large army at home, and Turkey even without a Landwehr or the contingents of allies can dispose of a force of 350 000 men, 50,000 horses, and 900 guns to say nothing of her fleet, which is more numerous and at least as efficient, as that of Russia, and is under the command of an able and experienced leader

Russia and Germany

The London Times of Nov 14th remarks

"With respect to future relations between Russia and the rest of Europe we know that there are many apprehensions but we cannot believe that they have any real foundation A certain friendliness exists between the Prussian and Russian Courts and the sympathies of the Czar have been testified by the compliments he has paid the German Princes on their achievements during the present war But between Germany as a nation and the Russian Power there can scarcely be any real union Germany would be eventually the sufferer by Russian aggrandizement While divided and weak she has looked to Russia as a necessary ally against France, but now that all fear of her Western neighbor has passed away she is likely to judge Russian ambition as severely as the Western nations have ever done New Germany indeed, will probably entertain ideas very hostile to the Russian hopes Panslavism, which has its outworks far into the midst of Germany, will receive a heavy blow from the events of the present year Should for instance, the Austrian Germans be brought into closer union with their countrymen, the united German Power will make short work of the hostile elements in Bohemia On the other hand, the state of the German Provinces of Russia is very likely to enter into the field of German politics These considerations account for a remarkable phenomenon of the war—the hostility of the independent part of the Russian press to Germany The Russians have divined by a truthful instinct the rise of a Power which may keep them more stringently in order than France herself The interests of Germany, moreover are not in accord with a policy which should give the Russians free action on the Danube and the Black Sea The Danube may be called a German river and at the present moment its mouths belong to a little State which is being very largely Germanized and is actually ruled by a German Prince Is Germany to join in a movement for bringing it again within the limits of Russian passports and custom houses? The same may be said in some measure, of the whole southeast of Europe where German commercial and other interests are yearly extending For these reasons we are sanguine that the policy of United Germany will not take the direction of giving free course to that Russian aggrandizement which the Western Powers checked in the war of 1854

The Berlin journals after a remarkable silence for some days had at length spoken The Kolnische Zeitung while agreeing with the condemnation by the Neue Freie Press of the manner in which this question is brought forward is altogether of a different opinion as to its importance Article fourteen it considers by no means the principal condition of the Paris treaty the provisions about the neutrality of the Black Sea it always regarded as immaterial, and the Austrian Red Book itself has showed that Austria regarded them as illusory Count Beust almost began by saying that he would release Russia from those bonds which in reality, did more injury to her honor than her power The Frankfurter Zeitung declares that there is no chance of an intervention by Prussia and both the German papers while declaring that peace or war must be decided by the attitude of England are of opinion that that country will not take up arms on the question

A "WIRE COSTUME."—An amusing story is told by the Rev J G Wood in his recently published Natural History of Man illustrative of the power exerted by fashion even on savage minds It appears that an English vessel reached an African port a large part of her cargo consisting of iron wire nearly the whole of which was bought by the natives and straightway disappeared the crew being left to conjecture what had become of it But soon the solution of the mystery was found for the Kaffir belles appeared in a new and striking costume Some of them had visited towns inhabited by Europeans and there had seen some wire cages outside draper's shops, and which they were told were the fashionable attire of European ladies This fact so fired them to emulation that as soon as the boat laden with wire appeared they traded for the new commodity went away and made 'cages such as they had seen and with them adorned their charms not having the slightest idea that anything but wire was necessary to put them in full European costume

GEN. THOMAS VIEW OF A BATTLE.—What battle was to General Thomas is portrayed in Garfield's oration as follows To him a battle was neither an earthquake or a volcano nor a chaos of brave men and frantic horses involved in vast explosions of gunpowder It was rather a calm rational concentration of force against force; It was a question of lines and positions of weight of metal and strength of battalions He knew that the elements and forces which bring victory are not created on the battle field but must surely be patiently elaborated in the quiet of the camp by the perfect organization and outfit of his army His remark to a Captain of artillery while inspecting a battery is worth remembering, for it exhibits his theory of success Keep everything in order for the fate of a battle may turn on a buckle or a linchpin He understood so thoroughly the condition of his army and its equipment, that when the hour for trial came he knew how great a pressure it could withstand, and how hard a blow it could strike

The Press of St. Paul notes the arrival of Senator Stewart in that city a few days since and says he expressed full confidence in the Republican party of Nevada and that personal matters defeated the Republican nominee for Governor The Legislature is Republican and the State has not, in reality, changed its political allegiance

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

N Y Herald's News

NEW YORK Dec 20 —The Herald's Brussels correspondent telegraphs this morning that the bombardment of Paris is declared to be impossible It is not humanity that restrains the Prussians, but simply impossibility for them to succeed, as they have neither the number nor caliber of guns necessary The Prussians only have 500 guns, mainly 20 pounders The French works which command their batteries can destroy them the moment that they open fire Paris has two months supply of food

Neither of the French armies commanded by Chanzey and Bourbaki numbers less than 100,000 men, and they can draw reinforcements from other parts of France for nearly double that number The appearance of the French armies is favorable

The King of Prussia has received the address at Versailles and accepts the dignity of Emperor tendered with unanimous voice by Princes free towns and the German nation Abolition of the Scheldt dues is voted

There has been no fighting before Paris since the 10th The people have outside news to the 11th They are undismayed Order is perfect and stores are ample

Strategical Movements

NEW YORK, Dec 20 —A Verdun correspondent writes that manœuvering is the order of the day with the French army commanded by General Chanzey and the Germans commanded by the Duke of Mecklenburg and Prince Frederick Charles As a consequence there are more exhausting marches than hard fighting at the present time

Peace Rumors

LONDON, Dec 20 —The prospects of peace are looking much improved this morning It is thought in Berlin and Frankfort that the peace basis proposed by neutrals, with some amendments, will be adopted

Military movements in the field continue actively, and the French are evidently endeavoring to concentrate One of the German armies is falling back before Bourbaki

Beleaguered Paris.

Cross Gazette says it is rumored that the previous causes of delay in the bombardment of Paris are incorrect The difficulties in the transportation of material will shortly be overcome and further action will be guided by military considerations

A special from Brussels says that the large calls for landwehr denote the weakness of the investment of Paris One or two more sorties like that of last night will raise the siege.

A Frankfort special says a month will be required before the bombardment of Paris is possible The present guns are useless whilst the French guns are almost within range of Versailles

The Germans stormed Nuits; their loss was 300 killed and wounded The French withdrew at nightfall Prince William of Baden was wounded in the cheek

The Arenes Zeitung denies that Prussia has designs on Luxemburg, and affirms its resolve to submit to arbitration complaints of the violation of neutrality The Luxemburg Government declines publishing Bismarck's note or the answer to it before the latter acts in the matter

WASHINGTON CITY

WASHINGTON Dec 20 —General Schenck having stated to some of his associates in Congress that he would not take his seat in the House after Thursday next, it is believed that his departure for England will not be long delayed He is now busy at the State Department making himself familiar with the past history of the Alabama claims and other matters of interest between the two countries

The House Committee on Foreign Affairs to day completed their Ocean Telegraph bill and authorized Fernando Wood to report it The bill is general in its terms and authorizes the laying of cables from any part of the world to the United States by any parties under certain conditions and restrictions

Grant's Message in England

LONDON Dec 20 —Grant's message was reproduced here at length The Times says President Grant expects England to take the initiative in re opening negotiations He will be disappointed It was the Americans who rejected the last settlement

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec 20 —Underwriters are declining to insure on shipments by the over due China steamer at heavy advance rates To morrow it will probably be 10 per cent

The following parties came passengers from Alaska by the United States steamer Newbern to day Capt Borrowe Capt Dunfelt, J. Turner Wm Belknap Mr Hower Dr Keegan and wife Mr Mahon Mr Ryan, Mr Anheim T W Elder and wife Mr Kadrolowski, Dr Cheeseman and four Russians

The McGarrahan Case Again

From the Illinois State Journal

Another chapter of the McGarrahan correspondence has been [illegible] makes the case against Secretary Cox stronger than it has heretofore [illegible] The President it will be remembered [illegible] take up the cudgel for either side but simply directed that the matter be kept in abeyance until Congress should arrive at some conclusion on the subject That was the only point made in the Long Branch letter and because he insisted upon that, Cox resigned This is indisputable

Was the President justified in making this request or command? Upon this point the following correspondence is of importance

FORTY FIRST CONGRESS UNITED STATES
WASHINGTON D C March [illegible] 1869
To the Honorable Secretary of the Interior

SIR The Committee on the Judiciary of the House of Representatives before whom the memorial of Wm McGarrahan relating to the title of the tract of land in California known as the Panoche Grande Rancho is now pending have directed me to request that you will still further direct that all proceedings in your Department, in any manner affecting the title to the land in controversy, shall be suspended until the determination of the matter by Congress and if in your opinion necessary, that you will cause to be instructed the land officers at Visalia and at San Francisco and the United States Surveyor General for the State of California to that effect.

Yours respectfully, JOHN A BINGHAM
Chairman Judiciary Committee House of Representatives

The next day, March 24 the committee received the following reply from Secretary Cox

INTERIOR DEPARTMENT,
WASHINGTON, D C March 24 1869.

SIR I have received your letter of the 23d instant in relation to the claim of William McGarrahan to the California rancho known as "Panoche Grande" and, in reply, have the honor to state that the Commissioner of the General Land Office has this day been instructed to suspend all proceedings in the case until the final determination of the matter by Congress

I am sir, very respectfully, your obedient servant
J D COX, Secretary
HON JOHN A BINGHAM, Chairman Judiciary Committee, House of Representatives

We have therefore proof positive that the President was only doing not only what the Judiciary Committee had done, but what Cox himself had assented to All of a sudden however, for some very mysterious and unexplained reason, (some say because he was feed to do so) Mr Cox took a new view of the matter, and insisted that the claim should be settled against McGarrahan without waiting for the action of Congress in the matter got mad because the President would not come to his terms He proposed to run the Administration, a duty intrusted by the people to the Executive, and when he found that he could not do it he resigned and began to abuse the President

Mr Cox had a perfect right to resign if he saw fit to do it and had he only done it and gone about his business no one would have a word to say It don't demonstrate, however that a man is the personification of purity and integrity because he loudly avers that his neighbors are all thieves Nor has Mr Cox yet proved that he was the only honest man connected with the Administration by his letters and the pronunciamentos of his friends Nothing has yet been adduced to show in the slightest degree that the Administration is disposed to foster in any way the abuses which Mr Cox asserts are so common in Washington It is charged that because his resignation was accepted and he was given to understand that the Government could on a pinch get along without him he got angry and now blubbers and encourages his friends to throw dirt at the President

Let them throw their dirt President Grant has given too many proofs that can be seen in tangible results of his desire to give the people an honest economical and efficient Administration for them to break with him because he chose to exercise the high prerogative of his office contrary to the wishes of one of his Cabinet advisers

Of the commencement of railroad work near Monticello, the Olympia Transcript says The object of the force now engaged in grading is to enable the company to make estimates of cost The advertisement of the company calling for five hundred men has put renewed confidence in the matter and satisfies everybody that the building of the railroad from Puget Sound to the Columbia river is to be immediately built Twenty five or thirty laborers for the road came up from below on the steamers on Wednesday and others are continually passing through for Monticello

The Daily Oregonian.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, DEC. 21, 1870.

French Fortitude.

The stubborn resistance which the French are making, the spirit of gallantry which they display, and their success in prolonging the war beyond a period which would have been thought possible after the collapse of the Empire, are facts which are doing much to retrieve the disgraces of the early part of the war, and which are beginning to challenge the admiration of the world. The French people are certainly bearing up under the reverses that have befallen them with astonishing resolution. The terrible defeats under the Marshals of the Empire and the annihilation of every military force that could be called a regular organized army, were events so overwhelming that the news of them might well be received by mankind as the practical termination of the war. No one supposed that France, in her defenseless condition after these appalling disasters, would be able to protract the struggle. That she has been able to do so indicates how great a spirit of patriotism still prevails among her people, despite their betrayal by the feebleness, incompetency and corruptions of the Empire. The French are now redeeming their character for historic bravery and love of country, which was well nigh destroyed by the defeats and capitulations of the first weeks of the war.

It is now evident that there is a spirit of resistance and fortitude among the French people which will cause them to make the greatest sacrifices. It is not a few madcap leaders who are holding the armed might of Germany at bay; it is nothing less than a general uprising of the people, actuated by a common purpose and filled with heroic resolution. They are not niggardly of their blood; they shun not the dangers of battle; they go back to meet the veteran armies of Germany and contend with gallantry against the troops who overthrew the whole Imperial armies and made the Emperor a prisoner. They hesitate not to lay waste their own country and to destroy their most splendid buildings, their bridges, their towns and villages, when military reasons demand it. Not long ago the guns of the forts of Paris were turned upon St. Cloud, and that splendid palace was destroyed because it was being used to afford shelter for the Germans; and now the Parisians are pushing batteries of heavy guns toward Versailles, with an avowed purpose of knocking that grand palace to pieces and dislodging the King of Prussia, who is using it as his headquarters. In many recent battles the new armies of France have fought with creditable bravery; and though they have not gained any substantial victories, they have inflicted upon the Germans far greater losses in the aggregate than were inflicted upon them by the armies of the Empire.

These are obvious facts which the world is now compelled to note, however much it may justly condemn France for her quarrelsome nature and her headlong injustice in precipitating the present war.

Under existing circumstances it may well be believed that the King of Prussia is anxious to bring the war to a close. He can take as much now as he could take a year hence, after overthrowing the present French armies. He has, therefore, nothing to gain by continuing the war, provided he can find any authority to treat with that will undertake to guarantee to him his conquests. The ex-Emperor would probably do that, and for that reason it would be a great card for the King of Prussia to restore him to the throne. It is certain that there are now difficulties in the way of Germany which no one could have foreseen three months ago; yet it is hardly possible that the French, with all their determination and efforts, will be able to avert the hard terms that their own folly has brought upon them.

The Herald is seriously concerned about the claims of "Southern loyalists," so-called. It wants the Government to recognize those claims and pay them. Now of course it is not the real loyalists of the South that the Herald wants paid. That paper has never had anything but gibes and denunciations for those in that section who truly adhered to the Union. That is the "scalawag" class, so called by the Southern Democracy, and the Herald has a thousand times re-echoed the epithet. No one supposes that the Herald has any real desire to see Southern loyalists paid, when it wants to repudiate the debt due to Northern loyalists and our creditors in Europe. The simple fact is it wants a door opened for the immense sums lost by rebels, so that these may either be paid with the present debt, or so increase the debt as to insure the repudiation of the whole. It is not at all difficult to fathom the purposes of such papers as the Herald. A little knowledge of the Copperhead character will enable any one to read their motives and comprehend their sinister aims.

We again call the attention of our citizens to the proposition made to them by Mr. Holladay, which, if accepted, will secure the construction of the west side road. The proposition is certainly an advantageous one for Portland. No person who is engaged in permanent business or who owns real estate here should fail to aid the enterprise according to his assessable property. By so doing citizens will have fourfold the amount of their subscriptions returned to them in the increased value of their property and the growth of their business, long before they are called on to pay the amount subscribed. If citizens evince a proper public spirit in this matter the amount will be pledged within a few days. Remember that nothing is to be paid till the cars have run over the first twenty miles of road. There will be a railroad meeting on Friday evening, at seven o'clock, at the Council Chamber, when the committee appointed at the last meeting will make a report of their work up to that time. Let all attend.

The total quantity of pig iron made in the United States in 1859 had a greater value in this crude state, at average prices, than all the gold and silver produced in our country, by some $5,000,000, according to the asseveration of Mr. A. W. Humphreys, President of the Sterling Iron and Railway Company, in a recent address on metallurgy. The product of American pig iron in 1869 was 1,916,641 tons. This is what iron industry has come to in this country under the protective system.

A telegram to a San Francisco paper states that the ship Horatio Harris is loading at New York and the bark Niobe at Boston, with rails and other materials for the Northern Pacific railroad. It seems probable that these vessels will enter the Columbia river with their cargoes as the work of grading is commenced on the Columbia, near the mouth of Cowlitz.

THE TERRITORIES.

William H. Taylor is the N. P. R. R. Agent at Monticello, to organize the force for work on the road.

The Golden Chariot at Owyhee is one of the best mines in the country. The yield of the mine for November was $61,950.

The Idaho Legislature has petitioned Congress to increase the salaries of the Judges of the Territory to at least $5,000 per year, and the pay of legislators to $6 per day. We guess Congress won't do it.

At San Juan Island, on the morning of Nov. 30th, Louis P. Miller, Sergeant of Company F, 23d U. S. Infantry, committed suicide in his quarters, by shooting himself through the breast with his rifle. Deceased was 26 years of age and a native of France. He lived twelve hours after committing the deed. He was much esteemed by his comrades, and no reason can be assigned for his rash act.

The Governor of Idaho in his message says that the appropriations made by Congress for the surveys of public lands in that Territory, have been entirely inadequate. It is advised that Congress be memorilized to appropriate not less than $30,000, exclusively for the survey of mineral lands, and also that $15,000 be asked, for surveying and establishing the southeastern boundary of Idaho.

PERSONAL AND POLITICAL.

The Government insists that Brigham Young must pay his income tax the same as a Gentile. Here is a fine opportunity for Brigham to wax profane.

The Wilmington (Del.) Commercial notices a report from a Democratic source that the next United States Senator from Delaware has been decided upon, and that the Hon. John W. Houston, a State Judge, and author of the State "Law Reports" will be the man.

The Rochester Democrat says of the "new party" agitation: "The movement stands confessed by its originators as nothing more nor less than an invitation to a large section of the Republican party to commit suicide." The same paper continues upon the subject of revenue reform: "The Republican party is, by its past action and its promises for the future, the exponent of genuine revenue reform. It has done all that has been done in that direction. All the great measures for reducing taxes, passed by the last Congress, were opposed by the Democratic members. Not a Democrat in the House of Representatives voted for the bill passed last July reducing the taxes $80,000,000. Not a Democrat voted for the funding bill, which is designed to save $25,000,000 yearly on the interest of the public debt. So as to the other measures intended to reduce taxes. Let Republican 'revenue reformers' be warned. They may rest assured that if they aid the Democracy in getting control of the House, that control will be used not only to 'block every scheme of the Protectionists,' as the World says, but to 'block' every measure of the Republicans, revenue reform included."

OREGON.

A child of Z. Wilson, of Salem, died of small pox on Monday.

The Salem flouring mills have been forced by cold weather to shut down. The water supply is affected.

The Democrats have put up the taxes in Douglas county this year higher than ever before. They are now 23 mills.

From the Statesman: The following Board of Pilot Commissioners for the Umpqua River and Bar, has been appointed by Gov. Grover: Edward Breen, A. Boone and S. F. McRoberts; also Geo. W. Murray, as Notary Public for Multnomah county.

At a regular communication of Lyon Lodge No. 29, A. F. & A. M., held at Independence, Oregon, Dec. 3, 1870, the following officers were elected to serve for the next Masonic year: George W. Kenedy, W. M.; H. Davidson, S. W.; H. J. Richardson, J. W.; J. E. Davidson, Treasurer; John Sommerville, Secretary; J. J. Busch, Tyler.

WASHINGTON FACT AND GOSSIP.

The project of each State building a dwelling house at Washington for its Senatorial representatives is about to be revived.

It has been ascertained that a combination has been formed in New York by leading regular army officers, friends of General Pleasonton, to defeat General Logan for the United States Senatorship.

Notwithstanding the fact that the House Judiciary Committee are almost unanimously in favor of the law requiring Congress to organize on the 4th of March, it is ascertained that a large majority of the members are opposed to its repeal.

The action of the Ways and Means Committee not to report any general tariff or tax bill at the present session does not include the income tax. Several members of the committee are in favor of the total repeal of the tax, and will urge it on all occasions.

An announcement in the Washington Chronicle of the 10th inst. by Colonel Forney that that paper is for sale, has caused much comment in political circles. It is understood that he does not agree with the Administration concerning certain matters.

Several leading financial gentlemen from New York and Philadelphia had a conference with Secretary Boutwell on the 10th inst. for the purpose of urging the Secretary to allow National Banks to substitute Pacific Railroad bonds in place of five-twenties. The Secretary stated that he was decidedly opposed to such substitution, as it would throw on the market a large number of five-twenty bonds and tend to depreciate them.

General Banks, Chairman of the National Republican Committee, has issued a call to convene a caucus. The main object is to determine the action of the party relative to amnesty. The call is made at the request of several leading Republican members, who think that if an amnesty is to be declared it should be a national measure, and not left to the engineering and glorification of a single man or State. The contest is as to the case of Missouri. General Butler, who tried to submit his Congressional amnesty, will probably not press it until the call is had.

THE SIAMESE TWINS—CAN CHANG BE SEVERED FROM ENG.—Chang and Eng visited Europe in February last under an engagement to exhibit themselves as a curiosity. They remained abroad about six months, returning to this country in the Cunard steamer which arrived on the 13th of August. While on the way over as they were seated at a table engaged in a game of chess with the captain of the ship, Chang was struck with paralysis of the right side. He became entirely helpless, and was obliged to keep in bed the remainder of the voyage. Of course Eng, though not at all affected in his own person by the unhappy visitation which afflicted his brother, was obliged to keep the latter company, and also confine himself to his berth.

Since their return to North Carolina, Chang has gained steadily in general health, but his right leg continues useless. This, however, does not prevent the twins from going about and attending to ordinary avocations. Those who have seen this curious pair will recollect that Eng stands on the right or off side, and Chang on the left, and that the inside arm of each is usually thrown around the other's back or neck. In their present condition, the way they manage to move from place to place is this: Chang ties up his right or inside leg in a sling, and by the support given him by a crutch under the left shoulder, and the aid of his brother's arm, finds no difficulty in making his way around the plantation as easily as ever.

The most singular thing about this extraordinary case is the fact that during the whole of Chang's severe and dangerous illness, Eng has been in unusually good health and spirits, not excepting the time during which he was confined to his brother's sick bed. He has no wish to be disunited from Chang even if he could be convinced that the operation would be free from inconvenience or danger; and a son recently remarked to a friend that he did not believe that his father would ever consent to a separation should Chang die first.

WAR MISCELLANY.

Late dispatches indicate that the German leaders are losing much of their overweening confidence in consequence of recent military events.

Many of the prisoners captured in and about Orleans are children under 10 years old, natives of Alsace, who, speaking both French and German, were found useful as spies.

Among the regimental flags captured by the Germans at Metz, and which are deposited in the arsenal at Berlin, are several bearing the inscriptions of Marengo, Wagram, Lutzen, and Solferino.

Prussian open-air amusements—theatrical, and of other descriptions—at Versailles are occasionally interrupted by shells from the French fort St. Dennis. But these little episodes only give zest to the sport of the German fete champetres.

A few days ago a Prussian spy was discovered on the top of a tall house in the suburbs of Paris, signalling his friends outside the city with a small blue and red flag. The adventurous fellow was fired at and pursued, but he managed to escape.

A correspondent, writing from London, on November 12th, says: "The study of English opinion is at present an interesting pursuit. I think we have been divided fairly enough in our sympathies until recently; now we are almost universally French."

It is to be hoped that the exploit of a certain Bavarian officer in the neighborhood of Orleans, who writes that his detachment has burned down five villages in twelve days, is not the usual method adopted by the German soldiers to stamp out the spirit of resistance in France.

A benevolent Parsee merchant of Bombay—Cownsjee Jehangheer Readymoney by name—has sent $5000 to London, to be used for the relief of the French and German wounded. This good "heathen," since 1846, has spent more than $600,000 in works of public charity and utility.

That the efforts now being made in the civilized world to raise funds for the relief of the victims of the war are both necessary and timely, may be argued from the fact that in the villages in the neighborhood of Metz alone, there are 20,000 poor, utterly destitute, who will require relief all through the winter.

The London News' correspondent in Lille, France, says: "The few travellers sojourning here are almost all English or American, and a curious fact is that all these are traders or agents for clothing or arms. A gentleman from Mobile, Ala., who was for several years Assistant Chief of Police (under the old Democratic regime) in New York city, showed me a new breech-loader, of which they are going to sell several hundred thousand to the French Government. It is the same pattern of which the Russian Government has recently ordered half a million to be made in America and England. The stamp thereon was the Russian Government mark, and the name of the American manufacturer was not visible. The arm is much lighter than the Chassepot, but bears a like charge. It is worked by five motions, against the Chassepot's eight. It rejects the empty cartridge hull, like the Werden gun of the Bavarian army."

More about Dr. Ream.

We have already published from a Seattle paper an account of the doings of one "Dr. Ream," an imposter, who married an estimable lady at Seattle, took her over to Victoria and abandoned her there. A Victoria paper gives this further account of him:

Dr. Ream smuggled himself on board one of the Sound steamers at Victoria, on Tuesday last, and reached Seattle the next morning at 3½ o'clock, and shortly afterwards visited the premises of his victim's parents. The Intelligencer says: "Her room is on the second floor in the rear of the building, which fact had not slipped his memory. So there he hid himself beneath her window and sought the advantage of a bench to get still closer. She was sound asleep. Rearing the bench against the side of the house at an easy angle, he shinned up its frosted sides to the window sill, but could go no further. Fearful of disturbing the household, he was unable to arouse his slumbering bride—just for one word of explanation; no other recourse being left, he fastened a letter upon the window-sill, and slid down again. The girl's mother heard a scrambling noise outside the house, stepped to the window, and got there just in time to see her promising son-in-law in the descending act, whom she mistook in the partial light for their big black dog. But the dog theory was disposed of the next morning by the finding of the letter, in which the absconding husband and general reprobate tried to explain his conduct in part, and renewed his tale of love. In connection with his ardent declarations he tells her that he is poor, but has a good profession, (that ought to be italicised) and if she will fly with him, they'll be happy yet; but if she won't he'll take her anyhow. The letter states that he would go up to Olympia the same night and see the Governor and that he would be back again the next day. The impression was that he lurked around the outskirts of the town intending another attempt to see his wife. The new role which the Doctor has assumed revives some interest in him.

The census shows that the mortality rate in Oregon is lower than in any other State in the Union. Minnesota is next after Oregon in healthfulness of population.

Why is it that Kohn & Nisbel keep the largest supply of Clothing in this city?
Because their sales require it.
Why can they afford to sell cheaper than any other house?
Because they buy in large quantities and get them cheaper, and because they are satisfied with small profits and quick returns, which system has brought them an enormous trade, and made them first in their business in the city.

If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have frequent headache, mouth tastes badly, poor appetite and tongue coated, you are suffering from torpid liver or "Biliousness," and nothing will cure you so speedily and permanently as Dr. Pierce's Alt. Ext. or Golden Medical Discovery. It also cures the worst lingering Coughs, at the same time strengthening and purifying the whole system. Remember that Dr. Pierce's private U. S. Government Revenue Stamp, bearing upon it his portrait, name and address, is upon every bottle of the Genuine. Sold by druggists.

CITY.

CLOSE OF BUSINESS HOUSES FOR THE HOLIDAYS.—The firms named below have signed the subjoined agreement: Christmas and New Year coming on Sunday this season, we, the undersigned, do hereby agree to close our places of business on Monday, the 26th Instant, and Monday, January 2d, 1871, for the purpose of giving [illegible] opportunity of recreation: Bank of British Columbia (Edwin Russell, Manager), Ladd & Tilton, First National Bank, Wells, Fargo & Co., [illegible] L. S. Rosenbaum & Co., Smith & [illegible] M. Seller, [illegible] White & Co., L. Goldsmith & Co., [illegible] Barrett, Harris & [illegible] & Co., N. J. [illegible] E. M. Lyon, Stitzel & Upton, [illegible] L. Story, C. Hopkins, J. B. Congle, [illegible] Henry Failing, C. [illegible] & Co., Knapp, Burrell & Co., [illegible] Wadhams & Co., [illegible] Corbitt & Macleay, McCraken, Merrill & Co., [illegible] & Co., Everding & Beebe, Charles [illegible] Janion & Rhodes, Godfrey Brown, [illegible] Friendly, [illegible] & Co., N. Williams, W. Jackson & Co., Martin & [illegible] Van Schuyver, [illegible] C. Mayer, [illegible] Millard & Co., Hawley, Dodd & Co., [illegible] Brothers, Seller, Frankenau & Co., Quackenbush [illegible] & Co., E. Milwain, Hodge, Calef & Co.

DIDN'T GET AWAY.—One of the witnesses, Louise Cassidy, in the case of the State vs Tillie Foster and Wm. Scott, now pending before Judge Lewis, started yesterday morning on a little pleasure trip up the Columbia, probably merely to see the magnificent scenery and get a sniff of pure bracing mountain air. For that purpose she went on board the Oneonta, but as that steamer did not make her usual trip, so the witness did not get out of the way. On the contrary she soon found herself not only still within the jurisdiction of the Court, but in the actual presence of the Court, and under the disagreeable necessity of being committed or giving bail for her appearance this morning. She chose the latter alternative.

ICE PACKING.—The ice company is making apparently ample provision for the proper treatment of parched throats next summer. For two days they have had a large force of cutters and teams at work filling their ice house. The ice is taken from an artificial pond beyond [illegible] Lake, in slabs about two and a half inches thick, which are frozen together after packing. It is to be hoped that the company will come nearer to the quantity wanted than has been the case for a few years past.

ICE IN THE COLUMBIA—RETURN OF THE [illegible].—The steamer Oneonta ran down into the Columbia river, yesterday morning, to prospect the route as regards running ice. She [illegible] the ice not so plenty as on the day before [illegible] very strong and sharp. Finding [illegible] steamer was getting cut considerably, Capt. [illegible] concluded to return. There is no through [illegible] navigation to the Dalles and the trip would have been comparatively useless, even if he had proceeded.

THE CITY CLOCK.—The dials of the city clock were put in place [illegible] yesterday. They are five feet [illegible] diameter, and the figures can be [illegible] about five or six [illegible] be told at a much greater distance [illegible] body. The [illegible] which can be [illegible] expected that the machinery will be [illegible] and the clock set to running by New Years.

SALE TO TAKE PLACE, NOTWITHSTANDING.—By one of those unaccountable [illegible] which are constantly happening [illegible] Mr. A. B. Richardson's advertisement [illegible] for sale at special [illegible] paper for nearly a week. [illegible] take place to-day at 10 o'clock [illegible] had luck to the "ad." The entire stock of [illegible] Hildburg Bros. & Co. will [illegible]

TO SAIL.—The steamer California [illegible] and Puget Sound ports, is advertised [illegible] Saturday, Dec. 24th.

The propeller Geo. S. Wright [illegible] Sitka and way ports, is advertised [illegible] Thursday, the 22d inst.

The Oriflamme will leave for San Francisco about Wednesday, Dec. 28th.

MASONIC.—At a stated communication of Canyon City Lodge No. [illegible] held at Canyon City, December [illegible] the following officers were elected for the ensuing Masonic year: James [illegible] W. M.; [illegible] J. W.; John Laycock, J. W.; [illegible] Treasurer; E. J. W. Stemme, [illegible]

FUN.—The aggregate of fun [illegible] for the week will be immense [illegible] There is a crowd there [illegible] of the day and till nearly midnight, averaging from one hundred to one hundred and fifty. They go there to enjoy themselves and they do it.

THE BAPTIST SOCIABLE AND FESTIVAL.—The object of the sociable and festival to be held at the Baptist church basement, on Friday evening, is to raise funds to pay for a Mason & Hamlin organ for the church. Miss Octavia Mercier will be one of the musical performers.

PERSONAL.—Mr. H. Y. Thompson, late Recorder of Salem, has come to Portland to establish himself in the law business.

Mr. A. B. Meacham went to Salem on the evening train yesterday, and will start in a day or two for Washington, overland.

MASONIC ANNIVERSARY.—The Masonic fraternity of this city will celebrate the anniversary of St. John's Day by installation of the officers of Harmony Lodge No. 1 and Willamette Lodge No. 2. There will also be other appropriate and interesting ceremonies.

SHIP SHAPE.—The steamer Geo. S. Wright has not only been pretty thoroughly overhauled and repaired, as regards her machinery, but she is now being painted and otherwise put in ship shape for her voyage north.

MILITARY ARRIVALS.—The steamer from Alaska brought quite a number of army officers, who are under orders for a more genial climate than they have been enjoying (!) for a couple of years. Happy fellows.

CHANGED HER MOORINGS.—The ship Montgomery Castle was towed from Vaughn's wharf yesterday, to Clinton's Point dock, to remove freight from the cars. She is filling up rapidly.

FOR THE FESTIVE BOARD.—The down train last evening brought a great number of turkeys to the dealers of this city. From this time on, we suppose, there will be much gobbling.

GAME.—The steamers from below are bringing large supplies of game. Venison steaks are becoming quite a specialty at some of our restaurants. Ducks are also plentiful.

THE NEXT STEAMER.—The steamship Oriflamme will sail from San Francisco for Portland to-morrow.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Prof. Cardwell will open a dancing school in the old Academy Hall next Monday evening.

Mr. Stevenson, City Surveyor, is preparing a map of Portland on an unusually large scale.

The Washington Guard will have a dance [illegible] at their armory on Saturday evening.

There is to be a great sale of pictures at auction on Friday, at 101 First street.

The First street improvement has been [illegible] suspended on account of the ground being hard frozen.

There is trouble in many places in the city with the water pipes and hydrants. They freeze up in unprotected places.

Thus far December has proved the best month of the year in the matter of large real estate sales.

AMUSEMENTS.

ORO FINO THEATER.—The comedy of "The Lady of Lyons" went off admirably last evening, all the ladies and gentlemen doing their parts in even better style than usual. To-night there will be a splendid bill, the performance to open with the beautiful drama of The Chimney Corner, in which Mr. Bates will personate Solomon Probity, aged Ninety-one, and Mr. Vinson Peter Probity, aged Sixty-one; and to conclude with the laughable farce of Poor Pillicoddy. Mr. Bates in the title role.

AMERICAN EXCHANGE PARTY.—There was an exceedingly pleasant party of ladies and gentlemen at the Exchange last evening, who enjoyed themselves by tripping the light fantastic toe till a late hour.

[illegible] of Business Houses for the Holi[illegible].—The firms named below have signed the following agreement: Christmas and New Year falling on Sunday this season, we, the undersigned, do hereby agree to close our places of business on Monday, the 26th instant, and Monday, January 2d, 1871, for the purpose of giving an opportunity of recreation: Bank of British Columbia (Edwin Russell, Manager), Ladd & [illegible], First National Bank, Wells, Fargo & Co., [illegible] Seller, I. S. Rosenbaum & Co., Smith & Da[illegible], L. White & Co., L. Goldsmith & Co., Was[illegible] & Co., X J. Barrett, Harris & Holman, [illegible] Starr, S. M. Lyon, Stitzel & Upton, [illegible] C. Hopkins, J. B. Congle, Lever[illegible] & Co., Knapp, Burrell & Co., [illegible] McCraken, Merrill & Co., [illegible] & Co., Everding & Beebe, Charles H. [illegible], Janion & Rhodes, Godfrey Brown, E. [illegible] & Co., N. Williams, W. Jackson & Co., [illegible] & Van Schuyver, Jacob C. Mayer, I [illegible] & Co., Hawley, Dodd & Co., Baum [illegible], Seller, Frankenau & Co., Quackenbush [illegible], E. Milwain, Hodge, Calef & Co.

[illegible] Got Away.—One of the witnesses, [illegible] County, in the case of the State vs Tilly [illegible] and Wm. Scott, now pending before Judge [illegible], started yesterday morning on a little pleasure trip up the Columbia, probably merely to see the magnificent scenery and get a sniff of pure, mountain air. For this purpose she went aboard the Oneonta, but as that steamer did not make her usual trip, so the witness did not get out of the way. On the contrary she soon found herself not only still within the jurisdiction of the Court, but in the actual presence of the Court, under the disagreeable necessity of being committed or giving bail for her appearance this morning. She chose the latter alternative.

[illegible] Freezing.—The ice company is making apparently ample provision for the proper treatment of parched throats next summer. For two [illegible] they have had a large force of cutters and men at work filling their ice houses. The ice is taken from an artificial pond beyond Couch's [illegible], in slabs about two and a half inches thick, which are frozen together after packing. It is to be hoped that the company will calculate better the quantity wanted than has been the case for a few years past.

[illegible] the Columbia—Return of the Oneonta.—The steamer Oneonta ran down into the [illegible] river, yesterday morning, to prospect [illegible] as regards running ice. She found the [illegible] as plenty as on the day before, but it was running and sharp. Finding that the steamer was getting cut considerably, Capt. Wolff concluded to return. There is no through communication to the Dalles and the trip would have been comparatively useless, even if he had proceeded.

The City Clock.—The dials of the city clock [illegible] put in place without accident yesterday. [illegible] are five feet and three inches in diameter, [illegible] the figures can be plainly distinguished for five or six blocks. The time, however, can be seen a much greater distance by almost anybody. The hours will be struck off by a bell [illegible] be heard all over the city. It is expected the machinery will be completed and [illegible] set to running by New Years.

[illegible] Take Place, Notwithstanding.—[illegible] these unaccountable accidents which [illegible] constantly happening in this fallible world, [illegible] Richardson's advertisement of liquors [illegible] at special auction was left out of this [illegible] nearly a week. The sale, however, will [illegible] to-day at 10 o'clock, in spite of the [illegible] the "ad." The entire stock of [illegible] Bros. & Co. will be sold.

[illegible]—The steamer California, for Victoria [illegible] ports, is advertised to sail on [illegible] Dec. 24th.

[illegible] Geo. S. Wright, up for Sitka and [illegible] is advertised to leave on Thursday, [illegible]

[illegible] will leave for San Francisco [illegible], Dec. 28th.

[illegible]—At a stated communication of [illegible] City Lodge No. 34, A. F. & A. M., held [illegible] City, December 3, 1870, the following [illegible] were elected for the ensuing Masonic [illegible]: James Roberson, W. M.; F. Wallace, G. [illegible] Laycock, J. W.; C. G. Carble, Treasurer; J. W. Stemme, Secretary.

[illegible]—The aggregate of fun at Crystal Lake [illegible] week will be immense, if the freeze continues. There is a crowd there at all hours of [illegible] and till nearly midnight, averaging from [illegible] to one hundred and fifty. They go [illegible] enjoy themselves and they do it.

[illegible] Baptist Sociable and Festival.—The [illegible] of the sociable and festival to be held at [illegible] church basement, on Friday evening, [illegible] funds to pay for a Mason & Hamlin's [illegible] for the church. Miss Octavia Mercier will [illegible] musical performers.

[illegible].—Mr. H. Y. Thompson, late Recorder [illegible], has come to Portland to establish [illegible] in the law business.

[illegible] A. B. Meacham went to Salem on the evening [illegible] yesterday, and will start in a day or two [illegible] Washington, overland.

[illegible] Anniversary.—The Masonic fraternity of this city will celebrate the anniversary of [illegible]'s Day by installation of the officers of [illegible] Lodge No. 1 and Willamette Lodge No. [illegible] There will also be other appropriate and interesting ceremonies.

[illegible].—The steamer Geo. S. Wright has [illegible] been pretty thoroughly overhauled and [illegible] as regards her machinery, but she is now [illegible] and otherwise put in ship shape for [illegible] north.

[illegible] Arrivals.—The steamer from Alaska [illegible] quite a number of army officers, who [illegible] orders for a more genial climate than [illegible] been enjoying (!) for a couple of years. [illegible] follows.

[illegible] Moorings.—The ship Mont[illegible] was towed from Vaughn's wharf, [illegible], to Clinton's Point dock, to receive [illegible] from the mart. She is filling up rapidly.

[illegible] Festive Board.—The down train [illegible] brought a great number of turkeys [illegible] dealers of this city. From this time on, [illegible], there will be much gobbling.

[illegible].—The steamers from below are bringing [illegible] supplies of game. Venison steaks are becoming quite a specialty at some of our markets. [illegible] are also plentiful.

The [illegible] Steamer.—The steamship Oriflamme [illegible] from San Francisco for Portland to-morrow.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

[illegible] Cardwell will open a dancing school at [illegible] Hall next Monday evening.

The Washington Guard will have a dancing [illegible] at their armory on Saturday evening.

The First street improvement has been about [illegible] on account of the ground being hard [illegible].

[illegible] is trouble in many places in the city with [illegible] water pipes and hydrants. They freeze up in [illegible] places.

Thus far December has proved the best month [illegible] in the matter of large real estate sales.

AMUSEMENTS.

[illegible] Theatre.—The comedy of "The [illegible] of Lyons" went off admirably last evening, the ladies and gentlemen doing their parts in [illegible] better style than usual. To-night there will [illegible] a splendid bill, the performance to open with [illegible] beautiful drama of The Chimney Corner, in which Mr. Bates will personate Solomon Probity, [illegible] seventy-one, and Mr. Vinson, Peter Probity, [illegible] sixty-one; and to conclude with the laughable farce of Poor Pillicoddy—Mr. Bates in the [illegible] role.

[illegible] Exchange Party.—There was an exceedingly pleasant party of ladies and gentlemen at the Exchange last evening, who enjoyed themselves by tripping the "fantastic toe," till a [illegible].

Also California Grapes, Oranges, and all fruits of the season, fresh and delicious.

Also a Splendid Assortment of Fresh Vegetables and Groceries, including Fresh Butter, Eggs and fine old Cheese.

Also all kinds of Game and fat Poultry.

He keeps nothing but the BEST ARTICLES for his customers.

December is here, with her storms and her rain,
And it makes the folks of cold weather complain.
Hark ye, dear gentlemen, this need not be so,
You can all be kept warm, for O'NEIL & CO.
Can fit you so nicely, so snug and so warm,
With CLOTHES that are proof 'gainst the bitterest storm,
And they sell them so cheaply, that all who go there,
Unlike Flora McFlimsey, can find something to wear.

KNAPP, BURRELL & CO.,

Have REMOVED to their New Store

17 and 19 Front and 14 and 16 First Sts.,

corner of Ash—Five Blocks below their Old Store,

WHERE THEY WILL BE HAPPY TO SEE ALL their old Customers or "any other man" wanting

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS

MILL FURNISHING GOODS, WOOD-WORKING MACHINERY,

RUBBER AND LEATHER BELTING, FARM WAGONS, GRASS SEEDS, ETC., ETC.

The particular attention of the Farming Community is called to our recent importation of Improved MOLINE PLOWS, greatly superior to any other Moline Plow in the Market, notwithstanding a certain firm, somewhat noted for truth and veracity—"so called"—persist in affirming that they are "bogus," "California made," etc.

Don't fail to call and look at one of the MOLINE PLOW Co's LATEST MAKE; and we think you will coincide with a Yamhill Farmer; who, after "looking round" and hearing the old story about bogus Molines, etc., delivered himself thusly: "Well, Myers, I'll just chance a couple of those new plows, and if they are 'bogus,' as that gassy chap above here says, I'll be d—arned if I won't take bogus in mine every time."

Next month we expect another shipment of those justly celebrated BAIN WAGONS, (Have now only a few left of the last lot,) STILL FURTHER IMPROVED over all heretofore received. It is not presumption on our part to say that they are head and shoulders above any other Farm wagon in market, in point of material, workmanship and finish, having achieved a reputation throughout the West, and wherever introduced on the Pacific, second to no other wagon. Some of the first sold here—three years ago,—have never yet had a tire re-set, and our experience has enabled us to order many changes and improvements over the ordinary make of western wagons to meet the wants and requirements of this coast. We shall sell the BAIN WAGON at the lowest possible price for a first-class wagon, and WARRANT them such, and in this connection beg to caution purchasers not to confound them with "inferior makes" that others are, or may endeavor to sell on the strength of the established reputation of the Bain manufacture, particularly after having made repeated and persistent efforts (without avail) to purchase wagons of Mr. Bain for this market.

Jim Wolf and the Tom Cats

BY MARK TWAIN

I knew by the sympathetic glow upon his bald head—I knew by the thoughtful look upon his face—I knew by the emotional flush upon the strawberry on the end of the old free-liver's nose that Simon Wheeler's memory was busy with the olden times And so I prepared to leave, because all these were symptoms of a reminiscence—signs that he was going to be delivered of another of his tiresome personal experiences—but I was too slow, he got the start of me As nearly as I can recollect, the infliction was couched in the following language

We wer all boys then, and didn't care for nothing, and didn't worry about nothing only to shirk school, and keep up a revivin' state of divillment all the time This yah Jim Wolfe I was talking about was the 'prentice, and he was the best-hearted feller, he was, and the most forgiven' and onselfish I ever see—well, there couldn't have been a bullier boy than he was take him how you would, and sorry enough I was when I saw him for the last time

Me and Henry was always pestering him and plastering hoss bills on his back, and putting bumble bees in his bed, and so on and sometimes we'd crowd in and bunk with him, notwithstanding his growling, and we'd let on to get mad and fight across him so as to keep him stirred up like. He was nineteen, he was long, and lank, and bashful, and we were fifteen and sixteen, tolerably worthless and lazy

So that night, you know, that my sister Mary gave a candy pullin', they started us off to bed early, so as the company could have full swing, and we run in to Jim to have some fun

Our window looked out onto the roof of the ell, and about ten o'clock, a couple of old tom cats got to rarin' and chargin' about it, and carrying on like sin There was four inches of snow on the roof, and it was frozen so that there was a right smart crust of ice on it and the moon was shining bright, and we could see them cats like daylight First, they'd stand off and e-yow pow-wow, just the [illegible] as if they were a cussin' one another, [illegible] and bow up their backs and push [illegible] their tails, and swell around and spit, and then all of a sudden the gray cat he'd snatch a wad of fur out of the yeller cat's ham, and spin him round like the button on a barn [illegible] But the yeller cat was game, and he'd [illegible] and clinch and the way they'd gouge, and bite, and howl, and the way they'd make the fur fly was powerful.

Well, Jim he got disgusted with the row, and allowed he'd climb out there and shake 'em off the roof He hadn't reely no notion of doin' it, likely, but we everlastin'ly dogged him and bullyragged him and 'lowed he'd always bragged how he wouldn't take a dare, and so on, till bimeby he histed up the window and lo and behold you, he went—went exactly as he was, nothing on but a shirt, and it was short. But you ought to a seen him! You ought to see him cre-e-pin over the ice, and diggin' his toe-nails in to keep from slippin', and above all, you ought to see that shirt-tail flappin' in the wind, and them long, ridiculous shanks of his glisten in the moonlight

Them company folks was down there under the eaves, the whole squad of 'em, under that ornery shed of old Washin'ton Bower vines—all settin' round about two dozen sassers of hot candy, which they'd sot in the snow to cool And they were laughin' and talkin lively, but, bless you, they didn't know nothin about the panorama that was goin' on over their heads Well, Jim he went a sneakin up unbeknown to them tom cats—they was a swishin' their tails, and yow yowin, and threatenin' to clinch, you know, and not payin' any attention—he went a sneakin right to the comb of the roof, until he was within a foot'n a half of 'em, and then all of a sudden he made a grab for the yaller one. But, by gosh, he missed fire and [illegible] his heels flew up, and he flopped on [illegible], and he went off'm that roof like a [illegible] went a smashin', and a slashin', and [illegible] down through them old rusty vines, and landed in the center of them company people!—sot down like a yearthquake in them two dozen sassers of red hot candy, and let off a howl which was hark from the tombs! Them gals—well, they looked, you [illegible] They see he wasn't dressed for company and so they left All done in a second—it was just one war-whoop and a whish! of [illegible] dresses, and blame the wench of 'em was in sight anywhere!

Jim he was a sight. He was gormed with [illegible] bilin hot molasses-candy clean down to his heels, and he had more busted sassers hangin to him than if he was an Injun princess—and he came prancin' up stairs, just a hoopin' and cussin', and every jump he made shed some china and every squirm he fetched dropped some candy.

And blistered! Why, bless your soul, that poor creature couldn't reely set down for as much as four weeks.

A Romantic History.

THE OLD TONTINE ASSOCIATION—DEATH OF THE EIGHTH SHAREHOLDER—THE DIVISION OF THE PROPERTY AMONG THE SEVEN SURVIVORS.

In the death of Mr John P. DeWint, who died recently at Fishkill at an advanced age, the eighth shareholder of the Tontine Fund has passed away. In the Times of April 21, an account of the formation of this association was published, and the following is a brief recapitulation of the facts therein contained The association was formed in 1790 and completed in 1792 The original number of shares was 203, and upon the payment of $200 the person so contributing this sum was entitled to the privilege of nominating a shareholder, who thereupon becomes a party in interest to the fund The appointees were all children, and the name and sex were given at the time of purchasing the share By the terms then agreed upon among the contributors, it was determined that each shareholder so named should possess a life interest only in the rents issues and profits of the fund, which was invested and placed in the hands of a board of trustees duly elected, who were empowered to hold a title in fee simple to the property of the association It was further agreed that when the number of shareholders should be reduced by death to seven, then the property or the proceeds thereof should be divided into seven equal parts, and each part should become the absolute property of one of the survivors With the fund originally contributed, the Tontine Coffeehouse, on the corner of Wall and Water streets was erected, which for many years was regarded as an old landmark. This building was torn down in 1855-56, and replaced by the present structure Owing to the rise of real estate in this city, this property is now very valuable, being worth several hundred thousand dollars A full and complete record of all the shareholders has been kept from year to year, and the death of each, as it occurred, noted At the beginning of the present year ten survived. The death of Gulian C Verplank and George Pixton Rogers of this city, last spring, reduced this number to eight, and by the death of Mr DeWint, the last link in the chain is broken which prevented the property from passing into the possession of those for whom it was originally intended The names of the seven survivors who remain, and who will receive the benefit of this trust fund so strangely collected, are as follows Gouverneur Kemble, Horatio Gates Stevens Robert Benson, Daniel M. Hoffman, William Bayard, Maria Bayard and Mary Ray —N. Y. Dec 1.

BEECHER'S POCKET-HANDKERCHIEF —Beecher has no beard to stroke, no mustache to caress, and he has not yet contracted the congressional habit of thrusting his hands in his own pockets—or other people's—nor of sliding them in his bosom, nor hanging his thumbs from the armholes of his jacket There are times when the text demands no gesticulation, and then comes in the full power of the handkerchief Automatically the busy fingers roll up a corner, measure the hem tug at the texture, and the next moment the hand swallows the whole square of cambric in one energetic, clinching gesture It is transferred from one hand to the other is caressed, crushed, unfurled, and may safely be called the banner of the Plymouth pulpit.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.
NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES
Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms Seminal Weakness Impotency, etc Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated

DR GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal Hospitals of Europe and has resumed practice at his Dispensary 623 Kearny street corner of Commercial San Francisco where his old patients and those requiring his services may find him

If a Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene Let parents, guardians friends attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private diseases his special study for years and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse This solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures viz Sallow countenance dark spots under the eyes pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots un[illegible] about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence diffidence in approaching strangers a dislike to form new acquaintances, disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats monomania and frequent insanity If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure Dr G will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of his complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr Gibbon stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions By inclosing Ten Dollars coin in registered letter through the Postoffice or through Wells, Fargo & Co. a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union

All communications strictly confidential

LAND DEPARTMENT
OREGON & CALIFORNIA RAILROAD COMPANY.

SALEM OREGON, October 22, 1870.

THE FOLLOWING STATEMENT IS MADE FOR information of all concerned

First—Congress has granted to the Company all alternate sections of the public lands designated by odd numbers within a distance of thirty miles on each side of the railroad, excepting lands to which a pre-emption or homestead claim had attached prior to the withdrawal by Government of the lands co-terminous with the first division of located line from East Portland to Jefferson, at 12 M February 16, 1870 The second division of located line from Jefferson to a point six miles south of Roseburg May, 1870 and from the last named point to the California line, 1870

Second—Persons who have valid pre-emption or homestead claims to any tract on an odd numbered section can purchase the same from the Railroad Company at the Government price of $1 25 per acre in greenbacks and upon very favorable terms, if they so desire, by filing an abandonment of their claim in the U S Land Office, blanks for which will be furnished by the Land Agent of the Company Such purchase from the Company has these advantages over a purchase from the Government The party can leave the land if necessary; he can sell the land or mortgage it; he is saved the payment of lawyers' or agents' fees and expenses of witnesses to go to the Land Office to "prove up" his claim; he can get his title perfect in less time, and he can buy on credit at a low rate of interest

Third—No sales will be made by the Company until the land is listed over to it by the United States Land Commissioner and Secretary of the Interior

Purchasers are thus assured that the title they obtain is perfect I R MOORES
